

'MAGIC CITIES' OF FLORIDA RUINED, DEAD LIE UNDER DEBRIS IN STREETS

DEVASTATION SPREADS. Increased number of dead is reported as storm area spreads. Picture above shows the harbor of Miami, which has again felt the full force of a terrific coast storm that is still raging and extending its territory across the Gulf of Mexico and Texas. Lower photo shows the city of Miami just before it was hit by the storm.

Story of Horror in Miami Is Related by Eye Witness

Al Reck, United Press correspondent, gave to the world the first word and the first detailed story of the great hurricane disaster befalling Florida.

Early Sunday morning it was a dispatch filed and addressed to the United Press by Reck with the Tropical Wireless at Miami, for delivery through the Independent Wireless to the United Press in New York, that conveyed the word of heavy losses in life and property in Miami and adjoining cities.

By AL RECK
United Press Special Correspondent

MIAMI, by Courier to West Palm Beach, Sept. 20.—(By U. P.)—More than 100 persons are dead in Miami and its environs. More than 3,000 injured lie in hospitals in and around Miami. More than 50,000 persons have been left homeless by the most devastating storm in the history of Florida.

The loss in property, if it ever can be estimated, will be more than $100,000,000 in Dade County alone. Miami has been practically wiped out.

Hollywood, Fort Lauderdale, Hialeah, Pompano, Dania, Hallan-dale, Moorehaven, Clewiston, Key Largo, Homestead, Coral Gables, Muckway and Key West all have suffered in varying degree—the first six named as well as Miami

Baby, Born in Storm, Crushed to Death With Mother

FORT LAUDERDALE, FLA., Sept. 20 (By U. P.).—Born in a house which trembled in the shrieking, terrifying hurricane which swept Florida, a baby lived but a moment, then was crushed to death with its mother, Mrs. Anna Thomas. The babe's father had rushed out in the gale to call a physician.

2,000 Homeless In Iowa Floods

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (By U. P.).—Flood waters washed over thousands of acres of valuable agricultural land through Iowa today, following a week end of recurring heavy rainfall.

Districts near Sioux City, Cedar Rapids, and Des Moines were reported under water this morning.
